

Supporters' Charter for the Association of Leaders of Missionaries and Religious of Ireland (AMRI)

Our Commitment to You

Inspired by the good news of Jesus, our vision is a creative and compassionate living of religious and missionary life in a synodal Church, responding with hope to the signs of the times, to the cry of the earth and the cry of the poor.

Who Are We

AMRI is the representative and support organisation for the leaders of 155+ Catholic religious institutes, societies of apostolic life and missionary organisations. Our membership is diverse, from small communities to global missionary congregations, from enclosed contemplatives to active lay missionaries, all with a presence in Ireland.

AMRI depends on your generosity to fund its work. In recognition of your kind support, we make this commitment to you:

Your Entitlements as an AMRI Supporter

As an AMRI Supporter, you are entitled to:

- An official receipt in recognition of your donation.
- Information about the projects that AMRI supports.
- Confidentiality - AMRI does not share your details with other organisations.
- A choice as to whether you wish to receive further communication from AMRI in the future.

Our Commitment as a Charity

As a charity supported by voluntary public donations, AMRI is committed to:

- Treating all our supporters with respect, honesty and openness.

- Preparing independently audited accounts, which are available to you for inspection, in accordance with the Fundraising Codes of Good Practice and Standards of Recommended Practice (SORP).
 - Effectively managing essential fundraising and governance costs and ensuring they are kept to a minimum so we can clearly focus on the work that is important to you and brings about our mission to inspire lives.
 - Managing our database of supporters in compliance with GDPR.
 - Recording feedback from our supporters and committing to resolve any queries/complaints raised by our supporters.
-

Maximising the Value of Your Donation

AMRI will maximise the value of your donation by:

- Seeking out the best value for any services or goods that we purchase and endeavour, where possible, to source goods and services ethically and in line with our and your values.
 - Availing of tax concessions provided to registered charities in order to maximise the value of your donation. To enable AMRI to reclaim tax, you must make a personal donation of €250 (in ROI) or more during the tax year and complete a tax form giving your consent for AMRI to avail of a tax rebate on your behalf.
-

At AMRI, we never forget that it is only by the grace of generous, compassionate people like you that lives can be changed around the world.

Thank you for your solidarity. Thank you for your support.

Ger Gallagher,

Secretary General, AMRI

AMRI is a fully registered and compliant charitable organisation with the Registered Charity Number 20023263 under the Irish Charities Regulator.