

Supporting Religious Life into the Future

The rich Gospel witness of Irish religious congregations and missionary orders continues today at home and across the world and within the hearts of the faithful.

Our creative and compassionate supporters already join us on the journey to carry this heritage forward, encouraging faith and justice for all to the next generation.

We invite you to join us on that journey.

In caring for your loved ones, join us on this journey and consider bequeathing a gift to AMRI in your Will to carry forth your legacy into this faithful and hopeful future.

A gift, no matter the size, will ensure practical and moral support for courageous and dedicated women and men who share the Good News of the Gospel in today's fractured society and offer hope in tomorrow's uncertain world.

Your gift will fund our work to encourage more vocations to religious life, campaigns on pressing social justice and environmental issues and practical support for Religious Congregations in Ireland as they plan for the future. We also have an ambition to found Ireland's first shared archive for religious documents and artefacts – we already have much interest in this exciting project from potential donors.

Many of our supporters make gifts in memory of a loved one as well, honouring their commitment and admiration for the work of religious and missionaries throughout their lives.

All supporters, past and present, are prayed for by our members throughout the year. Their names, their families and their intentions are held in a place of contemplation by AMRI's Members.

Taking the next steps towards planning your legacy can be challenging, but at AMRI we are sensitive and aware of what it takes to step out from the crowd and take that leap of faith.

We can discretely send you a practical resource on planning your legacy and how to go about it, which you can then take forward to your solicitor.

Indeed, we would love to meet with you and share more about our work and talk openly about our plans for the future and the part you and your legacy can play on this journey of hope.
